5. Second Annual Report of CODIB
(USIB-D-39.3/2, 15 August)

Mr. Borel brought to the Board's attention three problem areas of particular concern to the Committee:

a. The slow progress in the adoption of a standard format for information reports.

b. The discouraging outlook for the development of progressive documentation practices in the Community, mainly owing to the importance of Department of State reports, which now appear least subject to change.

c. The absence of authoritative guidelines for the development of information processing facilities in the Community.

The Board then noted this report, approved the Committee's approach to the problem areas, and directed it to pursue energetically solutions to the key problems identified in its report. Specifically, the Board:

a. Having noted the organization of an Automatic Data Processing Staff in the Department of State, urged that its study of the intelligence area include a review of State reporting format and procedures as they affect the Intelligence Community;

b. Agreed that the adoption of the common format for information reports should be expedited to the extent feasible.

c. Agreed that the Committee should prepare recommended guidelines for the development of information processing facilities in the Community, including, if necessary, the conduct of a general systems study; and

d. Directed the Chairman, Committee on Documentation, to give the Board a report of progress in these areas by mid-February.
